NJ Partners with Community Organizations to Provide Free Hearing Aids to Low-Income Seniors

Free, refurbished hearing aids are now available to eligible residents through a unique collaboration among the New Jersey Department of Human Services Division of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing (DDHH), Montclair State University, and Hearing Charities of America. The Hearing Aid Project serves low-income seniors, statewide.

The project involves the collection of used hearing aids, reconditioning the devices, and dispensing them to eligible New Jersey Residents. All hearing aid fittings are conducted by licensed audiologists who have agreed to participate in the program.

The devices are free to qualified participants but recipients will incur minimal out-of-pocket expenses for ear molds, batteries, and a flat fee for repairs after the one year warranty expires.

DDHH is a division within the New Jersey Department of Human Services. The Division provides education, advocacy, and direct services to eliminate barriers and to promote increased accessibility to programs, services, and information routinely available to the state residents.

Sertoma Inc/Hearing Charities of America is a not for profit service organization with clubs throughout the United States with a primary focus on assisting the more than 50 million people with hearing health issues and educating the public.

Montclair State University Center for Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology provides clinical training for audiology and speech-language pathology students and services the hearing health needs of individuals at Montclair State University and the surroundings communities.

To be eligible for the Hearing Aid Project, individuals must be at least 65 years of age, New Jersey residents, and have an income not exceeding 250% of the federal poverty level; $26,575 if single; $32,582 if married.

Additional information is available by contacting DDHH at 800.792.8339 or 609.588.2648.

Application forms may be downloaded at: <http://www.nj.gov/humanservices/ddhh/home/index/html> or by calling the DDHH office at 609.588.2648 or 800.792.8339.
