JCC of Central New Jersey presents University Lecture series featuring “Just Kids From the Bronx: Telling It the Way It Was: An Oral History with author Arlene Alda” Through vivid oral histories, Arlene Alda reveals what it was like to grow up in a place that bred the influencers in just about every field of endeavor. The Bronx is where Michael Kay, the NY Yankees’ play-by-play broadcaster first experienced baseball, where J. Crew’s CEO Millard Drexler found his ambition and singer-songwriter Dio DiMucci and hip-hop’s Grandmaster Melle Mel were inspired by local music. Alda will tell their stories, forming them into one great collective story of the Bronx from the early twentieth century until today.

Dan Ephron’s book relates the parallel stories of Rabin and Amir over the two years leading up to the assassination, as one of them plotted political deals he hoped would lead to peace and the other plotted murder. He will help us understand Israel today, from the paralysis in peacemaking to the fraught relationship between Netanyahu and Obama.
