Union County Truck Mobility Study

Newsletter 1 - Project Fact Sheet

Developing the Plan

Union County has begun work on a Truck Mobility Study. It is a transportation planning effort to improve the movement of truck traffic on the County roadway network while at the same time recognizing and balancing the needs of all other users of our roads.

Our population of 558,000 is growing. New and existing companies, large and small, are also relocating and expanding here because the County has a geographic advantage and skilled workforce.

During this Study, we will work with local governments and businesses to learn more about the freight activity in this area as well as concerns of those who drive, bike, or walk and regularly share the roadway with trucks.

The County is responsible for 174 miles of roadway, many of which carry significant freight traffic and is linked directly with statewide truck routes. Union County's roadway network was completed in an era that predates the current large trailers that are used most today which can pose challenges for truck mobility.

Goals

- Upgrade safety and security for all modes of travel and their users.
- Identify freight-focused improvements adapted for the growth of e-commerce deliveries.
- Meet the challenges and opportunities of growth.
- Utilize funding sources and target investments for maximum local and regional benefit.
- Facilitate and support the economic vitality of the County.
